3 Game summary

You are a cat. At least you used to be one, until you fell into one of your owner's experiments at the biochem lab, dissolved to goo and got poured down the drain by one of the assistants.

When you wake up in the sewer you turned into a gelatinous meowing blob. As you set out to look for your owner you pass multiple locations and find useful stuff.

4 Game outline

The player controls a slime cat in a through a jump'n'run styled game avoiding enemies and harsh environment. The Game and its story are divided into several stages, which in turn are divided into multiple levels. Between levels you can invest collected DNA-Fragments on already unlocked abilities or increase your health and every few levels you hit a milestone where you can unlock new abilities through DNA-Fragments.
